Prices start at $75 for K-12, public libraries and community organizations and $150 for Higher Education Institutions.

TWN's streaming storefront is powered by Tugg EVOD, an industry leading, video-on-demand streaming platform that enables educational institutions to digitally deliver films & user-generated content to educators, students, and staff. After purchasing the streaming rights to one of TWN's films, a member of the TUGG EVOD team will reach out to set up a customized streaming channel for your institution.

TWN has received support from the National Film Preservation Foundation (NFPF), The Women's Film Preservation Fund of the New York Women in Film & Television (WFPTF), and the Pacific Film Archives (PFA) to preserve its early works.

El Pueblo se Levanta

The People Are Rising, Newsreel, 1971, 50 min, New HD Master This unique film captures the compassion and militancy of the Young Lords, Latinx activists who implemented their own health, education, and public assistance programs and fought against social injustice in Spanish Harlem.

Teach Our Children

Christine Choy & Susan Robeson, TWN, 1972, 35 min, Preserved by PFA Through footage of the Attica rebellion in 1971, and follow-up interviews with inmates, this film questions the actions of prison warden Oswald, Governor Rockefeller and President Nixon, which resulted in the death of 31 inmates and prison guards from bullets fired by the National Guard.

From Spikes to Spindles

Christine Choy, TWN, 1976, 50 min, New HD Master In this raw, gutsy portrait of New York's Chinatown, Oscar-nominated Asian American filmmaker Christine Choy captures the early days of an emerging consciousness in the community as young and old residents joined forces to protest police brutality and hostile real estate developers.

Also Available for Streaming: Black Panther, Black and Blue, Cow Tipping: The Militant Indian Waiter

THE STRUGGLE CONTINUES! ACTIVIST CINEMA NOW!

A Litany For Survival

The Life and Work of Audre Lorde, Ada Gay Griffin & Michelle Parkerson, TWN, 1995, 60 min

An epic portrait of award-winning Black, lesbian, poet, mother, teacher, and activist, Audre Lorde. Lorde's work embodies the connections between the Civil Rights movement, the Women's movement, and the struggle for Lesbian and Gay rights.

The Woman's Film

Newsreel, 1971, 40 min, Preserved by WFPF

This film documents the origins of the second wave women's movement in the U.S. In small consciousness-raising groups, women talk about the daily realities of their lives as wives and workers.

Janie's Janie

Newsreel, 1971, 25 min, Preserved by WFPF,

Jane Giese, a working class woman in Newark, comes to realize that she has to take control of her own life after years of physical and mental abuse.

Also Available for Streaming: To Love, Honor & Obey, Dreams Deferred, Make-Out

A Dream Is What You Wake Up From

Larry Bullard & Carolyn Y. Johnson, TWN, 1978, 50 min, New HD Master The everyday lives of three Black families with different approaches to their struggle for survival in the U.S. are represented through a docudrama style inspired by the late Cuban filmmaker Sara Gómez.

Inside Women Inside

Christine Choy & Cynthia Maurizio, TWN, 1978, 28 min, Preserved by NFPF Using firsthand accounts of inmates at correctional centers for women in North Carolina and New York, this film exposes the daily humiliation regularly faced by women in U.S. prisons.

The Fight for Housing & Community - Classics

Break and Enter

Newsreel, 1971, 42 min, Preserved by NFPF This film captures the militant antecedents of the housing reclamation movement in New York City. In 1970, several hundred Puerto Rican and Dominican families reclaimed housing left vacant by the city by cleaning and repaired the buildings and moved in.

Also Available for Streaming: People's Firehouse #1

THE STRUGGLE CONTINUES! ACTIVIST CINEMA NOW!

Recent films available on DVD include Audre Lorde - The Berlin Years 1984-1992, Trans Lives Matter, Daughters of Mother India, Changing Face of Harlem, Voces de Fillmore, and more. Visit twn.org to browse our DVD collection.

Columbia Revolt

Newsreel, 1968, 50 min, Preserved by NFPF Black and white students rebelled against the Columbia University administration and occupied five buildings, in one of the first campus revolts of the 60s. The administrators' reaction to clear the buildings by force resulted in an unprecedented display of brutality and repression against students.

People's War

Newsreel, 1969, 40 min, Preserved by NFPF A unique film record of the mobilization and participation of the Vietnamese people in their country's fight against colonialism and foreign military aggression. The film investigates a society fully committed to national liberation.

The Women Outside

Korean Women and the U.S. Military, J.T. Takagi & Hye-Jung Park, TWN, 1995, 60 min A documentary about women who work in the South Korean military brothels and clubs and "service" the 37,000 American soldiers stationed in the most militarized region of the world. It challenges the U.S. military presence in South Korea and the role women are forced to play in global geopolitics.

Also Available for Streaming: Homes Apart: Korea, North Korea: Beyond the DMZ

We Are the Palestinian People

Newsreel, 1971, 50 min Filmed in Palestine by Newsreel, this documentary shows the refugee camps of the Middle East, the rise of the Palestinian Liberation Movement and Israel's relationship to Western imperialism. Includes an interview with Yasser Arafat.

My Country Occupied

Tami Gold & Heather Archibald, Newsreel, 1971, 30 min In this docudrama, the personal testimonies of Indigenous Guatemalan peasants and guerrillas are dramatized, narrating a powerful historical overview of the U.S. destabilization of democracy in Central America.

Immigrant and Refugee Rights - Classics

Bittersweet Survival

Southeast Asian Refugees in America, J.T. Takagi & Christine Choy, TWN, 1982, 30 min A look at the conflicted resettlement of Southeast Asian refugees in the U.S. in the aftermath of the Vietnam War. It unveils the mixed reception given to Vietnamese refugees in the U.S. and the refugees' struggle to maintain their identity.
